

We live in the century of information technologies and it is very difficult to imagine our life without the Internet. We use the Internet on different purposes: for work, for fun, for chat, for searching the new information. A lot of people use the Internet for creating personal sites. Doubtless, personal site gives people a possibility to express their personality. For me, personal site is the way to share with other the necessary information, to show my achievements and to read the opinions about my work. Teacher's site can help pupils and their parents.

Nevertheless, there are negative facts. Dangerous viruses can destroy the work of the site and of computer. Moreover you must always add information in your site, it takes a lot of time.

To sum up, I think the personal site is necessary for every teacher to express the personality
