Who Is She?

Who can help me if I am busy?

Who can make problems look easy?

Who will give you a piece of advice?

Who will comfort you, who is so wise?

Who will support when you fall?

Who makes you feel you are small?

Who will not sleep at your bed?

When you are ill and are sad?

Who will take care and cure?

Who can make you feel so sure?

Who can defend, wipe your tears?

Who when you talk always hears?

Who finds time for all these things?

Whose hands can pet you like soft wings?

And we exactly know who

Yes, it's mum. Mum, I love you.

What a touching poem! I like it very much. The interrogative form of the sentences make the poem original. Good luck in the contest.

To be honest, I'm chary of praise, but in this case I can't be silent because I share the admiration of my colleagues!
You gave me a chance to recognize your undoubted talent!
Please develop and improve it further! Good luck at the contest!
