To my Angel.

Mum gave me happy birth
And now I am on this Earth.
I'm glad to live, to breathe, to be
Cause Mummy's being is with me.

Mummy cleans, washes, cooks,
She retells me unread books.
Mummy knows much, a lot
And is ready to support.

She feels whenever I'm ill,
And makes me take a bitter pill
And doesn't sleep at all at night
She prays and leaves a damping light.

Mummy helps me with my deeds
And realizes all my needs.
I rely on her piece of advice
She is kind, clever and wise.

Mummy keeps my hand-made things,
My lock, diaries and clumsy drawings.
She looks through all my child's photos
And stores them neatly in the drawers.

I know exactly, without a contest
My Mummy is a wonder, she is the best,
My Mummy is an angel from Heaven in my life
Because with her it's easy, quiet and light!!!

I am sure that every mother will be happy to hear such lines:

"My Mummy is a wonder, she is the best,

My Mummy is an angel "

Your poem is nice and marvellous!
