Today my mother
Came to my house
With lots of blessing
And full of good wishing
To live long
Happy and healthy
Progressive and wealthy
My mother
My sweet mother
My beautiful mother
My loving mother
My real goddess
My ever goodness
My first lady I loved
My life my mother
My soul my mother
My God-gift my mother
My pride my mother
My aim my mother
My teacher my mother
My friend my mother
My preacher my mother
My daughter's face look-like my mother
My daughter my little mother
O the Absolute Almighty
Give me my mother
Again and again
And again and again
My mother
Only my mother.
Dr. P. K. Verma

«Mother!» Oh, «Mother!»
What a strange and difficult world for a child
One word, six letters
And a lot of advantages

She is the only person
«Pardon! Dear fathers»
Who is ready to take care of her baby
Her little lovely baby

She is ready to teach us
Everything she knows
What's right and what's wrong
What's at the down and what's on the top

But what does she love for?
For no one's thought
Not for beauty, not for money
But only for the being

One person and a lot of love
Love, which helps us in difficult times
Love, which helps us even survive sometimes
Love, which we need rest of our lives.
