To Mother's Day

I remember you as soon as you gave me birth.
There is no one dearer than you.
Your heart and hands give me warmth
And that's why there's light in my soul.

You smile when I am good. I see-you are happy.
And what do I need more?

When I feel unwell, I go to you.
Tell me how to be when I don't know what to do.
If I lost myself in my life,
If I lost my courage again...

Who will say me: "Don't go."
Who will understand when it's a heavy ice in my soul?

The shining of your kind eyes
Close to me in the world.
And you will know many times
How your children will make your glad.

All troubles and grieves will be gone away.
I will take them – I can!
You wanted it and dreamt,
You will be so happy with me and dad!
