St. George Ribbon

To wear St. George Ribbon in May

It's the modern symbol today.

But we mustn't dress it for fashion

We are grateful our granddads for patience.

They shown on that difficult time

Defending our Motherland against the crime.

The crime the fascist Germany proclaimed

Where millions of people lay.

The Battles of Kursk and Stalingrad

Where the skies were red

From blood of soldiers young and old

Their courage had not been sold.

The ground was buring under their feet

And now here are modern streets.

Unfortunately, sometimes we don't know

The heroes of that terrible war.

When different war films we saw.

And someone is trying our history to rewrite

And we have to say them they aren't right.

Now we live under peaceful sky

And someone may ask me a question

Why?

Do we know the names of heroes

Carved on the monuments and why

Must we put them roses.

I say you.

History doesn't forgive the mistakes

That sometimes our manking makes.

And now I can say you at last

There is no future without the past.

St. George Ribbon ...

Remember its meaning

Before putting it on.
