"In front of me an opened book"

In front of me an opened book
And wild field flowers lie,
Until Russian people in future look
Yesenin for them won't die!
The years fly one after another...
His verses have captured my heart:
Simple love for the nature and the mother
He showed by rich paints of art!
Scarlet sunset and silver in the lakes,
Golden leaves of a birch, pure skies,
Shine of stars and girls with wheat-coloured plaits,
Greening meadows I see with my eyes...
Rereading his lines during endless nights,
I imagined familiar places...
And if you're tired of soul's fights,
Look up into friendly faces!
They teach us how to view the world
In its kindness and eternal beauty,
To love in the morning a singing bird,
To value your mankind's duty.
For me it's difficult to create
Such wonders like Poet did,
And still my impressions are very great,
Forget him I can't indeed!
